2025 Jubilee Year: Pilgrims of Hope

Decisions. They're just so hard for us to make – because we don't know the final outcome in advance. The Lord, thank Heavens, has determined every minute of our whole lives. He knows how much pain we can endure, how many problems we should face, and all the blessings we will find each day. The Lord knows it takes all three of these to guide us to Him. The outcome of His decisions are a given; we get to be with Him.

CORPUS CHRISTI

The Solemnity of Corpus Christi celebrates the Body and Blood of Christ, which Jesus offers to the Father for the salvation of the world. Christ offers himself on the cross, and in the sacrifice of the Mass, he incorporates the Church into his act of self-offering.

In baptism, Christians are incorporated into Christ's body, and through the Eucharist, the baptized participate in Christ's self-offering for the whole world. This Solemnity's celebration of the Body and Blood of Christ calls the Church to deeper participation in the mission of Christ. Christ desires to reign in the minds, wills, and hearts of all people (see Quas primas, 7). Through our worthy reception of Holy Communion, we become instruments through which Christ extends his reign in time and space, offering hope to a world in need of his saving power.

Despite the challenges the Church faces in carrying out the mission of Christ, we are reminded this Jubilee Year that we are united in the "hope that does not disappoint" (Rom 5:5). The Solemnity of Corpus Christi allows us to reflect on this hope in Christ: specifically, how our participation in the life of the Church as members of the body of Christ compels us forward in mission.

Our baptism brings us into Christ's body and unites us in a shared and common dignity. Our participation in the Eucharist transforms us by the self-giving love of Christ. The love and mercy of Christ gives us a unifying model for how we carry out our mission as the body of Christ and how we bear witness to the hope found in Christ.
